ABOUT DJ

DJ Innato is an open format DJ from uptown Manhattan. Since making his club debut in 2012, he has played in over fifty venues across the tri-state. DJ Innato likes to infuse different genres of music to captivate his audience and showcase his knowledge for music. His proudest DJ moment came in 2017, where he opened up for hip-hop artists Big Sean and A-Boogie for over five-thousand students. Though he loves playing at nightclubs, his passion for music goes beyond the dj booth. DJ Innato is also an active member in his local community and often provides free deejaying services to help local establishments and public schools in the area. In April 2020, he hosted a virtual party via social media which generated over five-hundred dollars in sponsorship money and one-hundred and twenty meals for ER & ICU first responders at Mount Sinai West. His ultimate goal is to create an annual scholarship award to help students pay for college essentials including textbooks, computers, backpacks etc.
